"Scarborough Fair" (Child 2, Roud 12) is a traditional English ballad. The song lists a number of impossible tasks given to a former lover who lives in Scarborough, North Yorkshire. The melody is in Dorian mode and is very typical of the middle English period. It was recorded by a number of musicians in the twentieth century, including the version by the 1960s folk rock duo Simon & Garfunkel

Scarborough Fair (ballad) - Wikipedia

I got mine from the songbook years ago when I was sat in the library at Manchester when i should have been working. The 5th fret thing is my touch cause I saw Paul playing this song live in a documentary with capo on.
