This 2002 book seeks to identify the motivations of perpetrators of ethnic violence. The work develops four models, labeled Fear, Hatred, Resentment, and Rage, gleaned from existing social science literatures. It then applies them to ethnic conflicts in Eastern Europe to learn which has the most explanatory value. Synopsis

Understanding Ethnic Violence: Fear, Hatred, and ...

The findings challenge conventional wisdom, in that the Resentment narrative, centered on a sense of unjust group status, provides the best fit for a variety of cases. While Fear, Hatred, and Rage do motivate hostile actions, Resentment pervasively appears to inflame ethnic animosity and drive outcomes in the timing and pattern of action.

Book description. This 2002 book seeks to identify the motivations of individual perpetrators of ethnic violence. The work develops four models, labeled Fear, Hatred, Resentment, and Rage, gleaned from existing social science literatures. The empirical chapters apply these four models to important events of ethnic conflict in Eastern Europe, from the 1905 Russian Revolution to the collapse of Yugoslavia in the 1990s.

Each of these stories will be based on a single emotion that underlies a theory or set of theories commonly found in the social science literature on ethnic conflict. The Fear story is distilled from the security dilemma theories of international relations; Hatred builds on the "ancient hatreds" view often found in journalistic accounts; Resentment develops concepts from social psychology that concentrate on consciousness of group status; Rage is extracted primarily from psychological ...

Ethnic violence is a form of political violence expressly motivated by ethnic hatred and ethnic conflict. Forms of ethnic violence which can be argued to have the character of terrorism may be known as ethnic terrorism or ethnically-motivated terrorism. "Racist terrorism" is a form of ethnic violence dominated by overt racism and xenophobic reactionism. Ethnic violence in an organized, sustained form is known as ethnic conflict or warfare, in contrast to class conflict, where the dividing line is

Ethnic violence - Wikipedia

Violence, the suppression of opponents, and a disdain for the democratic rule are, again, part of an extremist agenda which, like in the interwar years, is empowered by some ruling elites. The only difference is that they are now masked with populist camouflage, pro-Christianity or anti-Islam slogans, anti-lockdown protests, and anti-immigrant propaganda.
